

You may have known that the point of intersection is the solution to the system, but you were confused about which coordinate represented which number. The horizontal axis, or first coordinate, represents the number of adult memberships. The vertical axis, or second coordinate, represents the number of student memberships.