If you solve a system and end up with the equations $x = 0$ and $y = 0$, then the solution is (0, 0). Here, if you multiply the first equation by -3 and add it to the second equation, then you end up with $0 = 0$, which means something very different, and that is true regardless of the value of x or y.