

If you end up with a false equation such as  $1 = 0$ , then the system does not have any solutions. This means that the graphs of the two equations do not intersect. If they do not intersect, then they must be parallel.