

The last time Henry did some house painting, he was able to paint about 400 square feet in two hours. He now wants to paint 1,500 square feet. If he works at the same rate as when he painted the 400 square feet, which equation gives the amount of time,  $t$ , in hours, it will take Henry to complete the job?