

The slope of the line between the points (a,b) and (c,d) is equal to $\frac{b-d}{a-c}$ (which is also equal to $\frac{b-d}{c-a}$). Be sure that the difference of y -coordinates is in the numerator and the difference of the x -coordinates is in the denominator.