You may have confused inverse variation and direct variation. That pressure (P) and volume (V) are inversely proportional tells you they are related by an equation of this form:

$$P = \frac{k}{V}$$