Trey has saved some money and is going to buy some music. The number N of CDs Trey can buy is inversely proportional to the cost C of a CD. If the cost of one CD is $8, then he can buy 9. If the cost of one CD is $12, then how many CDs can he buy?

Trey can buy _____ CDs.