

Incorrect. This problem tells you that $N = \frac{k}{C}$, for some constant k . Substituting the given information gives you:

$$9 = \frac{k}{8}$$

Find k and use this with the new value of C to find the new value of N .