

The total number of equal parts in the whole is the denominator. The number of shaded parts is the numerator.