

At 10 a.m., because there are more people with cars at the library at that time