

The result has the correct sign, but you multiplied the reciprocal of the first fraction by the second fraction. To divide, you need to multiply the first fraction by the reciprocal of the second fraction.