

You did not reverse the inequality symbol when dividing both sides of the first inequality by -3 . You need to remember to reverse the inequality symbol whenever you multiply or divide both sides of an inequality by a negative number.