

When isolating the variable in the first inequality, you may have forgotten that a negative divided by a negative is a positive. Also, you tried to subtract 4 from both sides of the second inequality, instead of adding 4.