An earthquake near New Zealand measured 4.2 on the Richter scale. Use the formula $R = \log\left(\dfrac{A}{A_0}\right)$ to determine approximately how many times stronger the wave amplitude of the earthquake was than A_0.