

You may have correctly substituted 4.2 for  $R$  in the formula, but then treated the equation as if it had a natural logarithm, instead of a common logarithm.