The first point is on the graph of cosine, but the second point is on the graph of sine. When $\theta = \dfrac{\pi}{2}$:

$$\cos\left(\dfrac{\pi}{2}\right) = \cos 90° = 0$$

So the point $\left(\dfrac{\pi}{2}, 0\right)$ is on the graph of cosine.