Multiply the first equation by 2 and add it to the second equation. The resulting equation is $0 = 0$. This indicates the potential for an infinite solution. You need to check the remaining equation. If you multiply the first equation by -3 and add it to the third equation, the resulting statement is also $0 = 0$. This means all the points are on one plane, so there are an infinite number of solutions.