

You may have made an error when attempting to eliminate a variable. A system can have an infinite number of solutions only if you can end up with the equation $0 = 0$. This system has the unique solution $(3, 2, -2)$.