You may have correctly multiplied both sides by 3 as the first step. However, to isolate h in the equation $3V = \pi r^2 h$, you need to divide both sides by πr^2, not subtract it.