Carson is drawing prisms that have the same volume. The base area of each prism varies inversely with its height. What are a possible prism base area and height if one prism has a base area of 36 square inches and a height of 6 inches?