You may have divided 2 by 20 and multiplied 0.1 by 32. If T is the total before tax, n is the number of items, and p is the price of one item, then $T = knp$. Substitute the given numbers, $T = 32$, $n = 20$, and $p = 2$, and solve for k.