You added the denominators as well as the numerators, and then simplified. When adding rational expressions with like denominators, just add the numerators.