

It appears that you subtracted the numerators and subtracted the denominators. Instead, you need to find the least common denominator, which is $8a \cdot 7b = 56ab$. Then rewrite both fractions so that they have this denominator. Finally, subtract only the numerators while keeping the denominator the same. The correct answer is: $\frac{21b - 16a}{56ab}$