It appears that you combined all the coefficients to obtain 16 and all the radicands to obtain 26. When adding radical terms, if the radicals themselves are the same (for example, both are square roots and both of the radicands equal 6), they are like terms. Combine them just as you would combine $7a + 7a$. Do this for all like terms.