You may have correctly subtracted 3 from both sides and got $\sqrt{x} = -2$, but then incorrectly squared to get $x = -4$. The square of a negative number is positive. Check your solution in the original equation.