You may have correctly started with $50 = \sqrt{2A}$, but when you squared both sides you mistakenly got $4A$ on the right side. When you square a square root, you end up with the radicand (what is under the radical).