You moved the radical sign and changed the minus sign to plus. You can find the conjugate of a binomial that includes radicals by changing the sign of the second term to its opposite.