

Standard form of a quadratic equation is $ax^2 + bx + c = 0$.

The values of a , b , and c are the three coefficients. Remember that a variable term with no coefficient in front is the same as a variable term with a 1 in front. Also, do not forget to include the minus sign when a term is being subtracted.