

You combined the real part of one complex number with the imaginary part of the other number, but these are not like terms. Rearrange the sum to put the real numbers together and the imaginary numbers together. Then combine those like terms.