It appears that you used the wrong order of operations and solved the equation $(x - 21)^2 = 25$. The correct first step is to add 25 to both sides to get $(x + 4)^2 = 50$. Take the square root of both sides, isolate x, and simplify the radical.