

You have treated a multiplication problem as if it were addition. Multiply the real factor by the coefficient of i .