Correct. The set of output values for a function is called the range of the function. Because the output for each input in this function is -2, the range of the function is $\{-2\}$.