

Correct. The y -intercept of the line is the point $(0, y)$ that lies on the line. Using the pattern described in the table, the slope of the line is -4 , so the points $(1, 14)$ and $(0, 18)$ are also on the line, showing that the y -intercept is $(0, 18)$.