

Remember that  $\sqrt{x}$  is defined to be the positive square root, so there will be no negative values for  $y$  in the graph of  $f(x) = \sqrt{x}$ . So the graph will have no points below the  $x$ -axis.