

Different students can have the same shoe size. A single input of shoe size will produce different outputs of names of students. Therefore, the name of the student is not a function of shoe size.