

Incorrect. Find the range of the function, using all the output values for the function, which are known. The range is all the y -coordinates.

Range: $\{-8, -1, 2, 5, 9\}$

Because the domain has the same set of numbers as the range, you can find the number missing from the set of input values, or x -coordinates. The correct answer is 5.