

You may have thought a function had to be graphed as a straight line, but that is only true for linear functions. The graph of a quadratic function is a parabola.