

You added the coefficients and the exponents. To multiply these functions, multiply the coefficients and add the exponents.