You have found an equivalent expression, but you did not divide to obtain a simpler form. You must factor the numerator and also the denominator to find common factors.