

Incorrect. For each function, the domain is all the  $x$ -values for which the radicand (expression under the radical sign) is not negative. Write an inequality, setting the radicand  $\geq 0$ . Solve the inequality for  $x$  to determine the domain of the function.