

You may have remembered that you should use the exponent as a factor, but it should be multiplied by the logarithm.