

You may have remembered that you should use the exponent outside of the logarithm. However, the exponent should be multiplied by the logarithm.