

The domain of the function  $f(x) = \ln x$  is  $x > 0$ . So the graph will not have any point with  $x = 0$ . Another way to say this is that the graph will not have any point lying on the  $y$ -axis because all those points have  $x = 0$ .