

These look like the graphs of decreasing exponential functions. Therefore, both of these could have the form  $y = b^x$ , with  $0 < b < 1$ . When  $x > 0$ , Graph B falls below Graph A. This means that the values of the function are smaller. Therefore, the value of the base  $b$  should be smaller for Graph B.