

The given graphs look like the graphs of exponential functions, and this choice is a pair of exponential functions. However, the given graphs are decreasing, while the graphs of both of these functions are increasing.