

When 9 is substituted in for  $x$  and 1 for  $y$ , you get:

$$1 = \log_9 9$$

This is equivalent to  $9^1 = 9$ , which is true. Therefore, the point  $(9, 1)$  is on the graph.