Because the "Other" section is about one-fourth of the circle graph, one-fourth of the 200 students would be in this category. This list correctly shows 50 students next to "Other." However, the graph also shows a smaller section for "Foreign Languages," so there should be fewer than 50 students in this category. This list shows 50 students next to "Foreign Languages," so it cannot be correct.