

Perhaps you misread the question. How high each point is above the year shows how many students were in a class, according to the numbers on the vertical axis. Between these two years, the class size went from 20 to 17. This means that the size decreased by 3.