You may have confused the shape of exponential and logarithmic graphs. The general shape of a logarithmic graph is this: it gets close to the y-axis for x near 0, increases as x increases, and is curved downward. The given graph does not have this shape.