An earthquake monitoring station measured the amplitude of the waves during a recent tremor. The waves were 10,000 times as large as A_0, the smallest detectable wave. How high did this earthquake measure on the Richter scale?

Use the formula $R = \log\left(\dfrac{A}{A_0}\right)$ to determine the answer.

$R =$ _____